

Ministry in Tasmania – Information Session

Monday 22 August
7-8.30pm

God is doing amazing things in the Diocese of Tasmania! Under his gracious hand, we are seeing new churches planted, older churches revitalised and a whole new generation of people being reached with the good news of the gospel.

Would you consider joining us?

At this information session, the Bishop of Tasmania, Richard Condie, will be sharing some of the highlights and challenges of ministry on the Apple Isle (including telling you about the abundance of cheese and wine for those longer winter nights!) He will outline some of the current ministry opportunities as well as those that may be on the horizon. There are positions available in children's ministry, church planting, as well as a few Assistant Minister and Senior Minister (Rector) roles.

If you love Jesus and are considering your next steps in ministry we want to meet you! We also welcome theological students to come and find out about the pathways into ministry in Tasmania. God might be calling you to come over and help us in this important gospel work.

This event will be online. To receive the zoom link or for more information please email: bishop@anglicantas.org.au.
